Description :

Prsentation de l'diteurMonsters are roaming the streets of London. Of course, some monsters are scarier than others: Unicorns? No bother. Vampires? Big deal. Werewolves? Ho hum. Lawyers? ... Aaargh! Duncan's boss doesn't think that he's cut out to be a lawyer. He isn't a pack animal. He lacks the killer instinct. But when his best friend from school barges his way back into Duncan's life, with a full supporting cast of lawyers, ex-wives, zombies and snow-white unicorns, it's not long before things become distinctly unsettling. Hairy, even. Audiofile You'll love every minute of this British novel about London lawyers who "moonlight" as werewolves and vampires. Holt's bizarre story is unique in a world that overuses the word. Set aside logic, and you can almost believe that the arcane creatures live in the world of John Grisham and Lisa Scottoline.

Maybe. Narrator Ray Sawyer certainly helps, with his conversational delivery and amiable charm--except when he's growling like a Cockney werewolf. He tells the story from the point of view of Duncan, a really bad lawyer, who is recruited by a group of high school friends to join their pack. It's only after he joins that he learns about the whole howling at the moon thing. It's a howling good time. M.S. AudioFile 2008, Portland, Maine-- Copyright AudioFile, Portland, Maine
