Description :

Prsentation de l'diteurWhat if you found a body under the lighthouse?Everyone in town knew the dead woman.They don't believe she was murdered.They certainly don't want a newcomer digging into the past.One woman talks to Libby. Then she, too, dies...Widowed and new to town, Libby Forest is determined to make a fresh start, cooking and baking cakes in the tight-knit seaside community. When she finds the dead rock star, her life changes in ways she never imagined possible. In the first in a series of murder mysteries, full of quirky characters, dogs and gossip, the sandy beaches and green fields of Somerset provide a perfect setting for a murder or two. Libby, with Bear the enormous sheepdog at her side, drives a battered old purple car through winding lanes under a wide English sky as she untangles webs of deception and intrigue. If you love Agatha Christie-style classic murder mysteries, cozy crime, dogs, cake and chocolate, download Libby's first adventure now, put your feet up, and find out whodunnit... Here's what readers are saying about the series: "This is a perfect short, cozy mystery." "It makes you wonder if English country villages are safe places to live. But I certainly would give half a chance." "Frances Evesham has invented an array of lively village personalities to get in Libby's way from her Goth teenage lodger to the pompous chair of the women's group or the rude but kindly garage proprietor." "With every book, I grow more fond of Libby and Exham." "If you like Miss Marple this amateur sleuth will enthral you."
